From the CEO

The summer is almost here and many of our Student Athletes are going to be taking on new and exciting challenges. Some will take vacations and visit family members while others will be enjoying time at home playing with friends and family. The rest of us will be developing new friendships and learning new things at summer camps across the city. Whatever your destination this summer, please be safe and enjoy your summer. Please continue to be physically active and drink plenty of water.

I want to take this time to congratulate all the outstanding boys and girls of our programs that are moving on to the next level grade or graduating. We know your futures are bright and we wish you great success as you turn a new chapter in your education. I want to specifically give a load of thanks to the parents and coaches who have spent hours helping with homework and mentoring the youth so that they can continue to feel safe and motivated.

More importantly, we aim to develop new relationships with our community partners and local business owners as we strive to provide more employment opportunities for our Junior.

Once again, our future programming depends on the monetary support of caring individuals. Our parents, volunteers and talented coaches volunteer their time and dedicate their energy to ensuring that the players attend practices and games as well as learn how to be great teammates, as such, we are always seeking funds and welcoming donations of any amount. Please consider being an annual donor. Your donations are how we continue to keep the lights on and how we are able to launch activities and programs to support our Student Athletes.

Sincerely,

Michael King

Summer Camp

The soccer camp provides skills development through positive, fun and professional coaching methods. This year, we are working with ages 5-11. Small sided games and situation drills will be used to improve all aspects of a camper's game. Campers are trained individually and in small groups to develop the essential skills of soccer such as dribbling, passing, receiving and shooting. We encourage Campers to engage their teammates using unique team building activities. Physical health and fitness is a very important aspect of our Camp. We encourage Campers to participate in all physical fitness and education health activities.

Camp cost is $80 half day camp Mon-Fri 9am-12pm. We also will be providing a academic enrichment program from 1pm-5pm. Discounts are available for siblings and for Wolfpack Soccer Club members.
